HOW HE WON HER.

BY J. H. SPENCER.

It was a beautiful evening in June. Standing on a grassy bank, beside a rippling stream, the splash of the waters alling cooly and pleasantly upon the ear this warm, summer evening, were two persons, young and well favored, and of opposite sex.

He was speaking it a soft pleading voice, she was listening with a half-averted face, the beauty of which was heightened by a pink tell-tale blush, that mounted to the roots of her dark, brown hair.

CAPE MAY COURT HOUSE, N. J., Septem 14.—The storm in this vicinity was the worst known since the blizzard. At Holly Bea the tide reached Pacific avenue. At this writing no lives have been lost, but much property has been destroyed. At Wildwood the Wildwood hotel is a total loss and part of the sea wall is gone. These points also, Sea Isle City, Ocean City and Axion are entirely cut off from communication, both by railroad and telegraph, and the extent of the damage at the latter place can only be surmised. The report that Townsend's Inlet drawbridge and several cottages at Sea Isle were destroyed, is mainly believed to be true. The entire meadow is one vast sheet of water, and the Angleses train, which was wrecked on Tuesday, still lies in the ditch. The track is nearly all destroyed for a distance of five miles. It is said that the president was ignorant, until this matter came up, of the fact that General Rosecrans is drawing two salaries from the government, one as register of the treasury and the other as retired brigadier general. It is stated that the president was greatly surprised when his attention was called to this fact.

More New Evidence. CHICAGO, September 14.-A Chicago de tective is in Winnipeg : earching for a trunk united will.

The persistence of the strikers increases with the swelling of the tide of subscriptions. The home contributions are slightly falling, but Australia continues to pour in funds. One thousand four hundred pounds more has been received, making a total from Australia of £15,500. The church relief activity is increasing. The result is that many dock men fare better when idle than when at work. Foremost among the relief committees are the Salvation Army, who provide for 8,000 men daily. Feeling no distress, the temper of the dock men is not towards a compromise.

In the meantime, in spite of the strikers pickets, the companies are gradually replenishing their working force. The home office, in response of the appeal of members of the Corn exchange for the protection of workmen against the strikers pickets, placed additional police on duty at the docks and another steamer provided for patrolling the river. The wharves piesent almost their wonted busy aspect prior to the strikers, Mr. Burns again assailed American workmen for their failure to contribute money in aid of the strikers. "With all their boasting and bluffing," he said, "they have given nothing." If ever the dock men were in a position to congratulate themselves it is now, for no less than $17,000 were received in one day, but 'nary a red cent' came from America. The rain this week fell principally in the east half of the state. An excess occurs in Johnson, Wyandotte, east halves of Leavenhalf of Miami, and again from the central portion of Lincoln to the suthern portion of Republic. It is normal from Ellsworth to elsewhere.

Frost occurred on the morning of the 5th in all sections of the state except in the eastern division south of the Kaw.

TEMPERATURE AND SUNSHINE. The first days of the week were warmer and windy, culminating on the 36 in a strong south and southwest wind, and the highest temperature for the week (in the northeastern counties the highest for the year). On the 4th a cold blast from the north, beginerally for fall plowing. Haying is nearly finished. Corn cutting has begun in nearly every county. The sorghum mills are in full blast in the southern and central counlies. In the extreme southers and central coin-lies. In the extreme southwestern counties everything, including grass, is materially improved since last week's rain. the hour set for the funeral of the late Samuel Sullivan Cox, the Presbyterian church began to fill with illustrious and humble mourners and admirers of the dead statesman. Before the services began the church was full, and it was necessary to close the doors, leaving many people on the outside. The fioral tributes to the departed were unusually magnificent. The line was:

Grover Cleveland and Vice President Morton, General W. T. Sherman and Judge Daly. W. H. Northup and John T. Agnew, George Hoadly and Douglas Taylor, S. K. Kimball and George Francis Train. Immediately behind came the bier borne by John D. O'Connor, Mr. Hirchfield, M. H. Whalen, John Henry McCarthy, J. J. Morris, J. H. Ressling, N. J. Kearney and Henry Baschoff. Close to the coffin walked the bereaved wife. Dr. Deems read from the scriptures. The Rev. Dr. W. Milburn, "the blind chaplant" of the house of representatives, followed and delivered a short address. The Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage spoke very beautifully of Mr. Cox's character as a typical American. The interment was at Greenwood.

New York, September 17.-Rays of sur shine have at last broken through the heavy themselves that the storm, which has rethemselves that the storm, which has remained with them a week, has fled. But following this comes the statement that weather of a much warmer kind is coming this way. The feeling of uneasiness in shaping circles as to the safety of many vessels at sea during the storm remains as keen as ever. There are several New York steamers and sating vessels overdue, and, as telegraphic communication between here and a number of ports still remains cut off, it is impossible to learn anything for the present. Communication with Sandy Hook is all right again. No less than a score of storm lelayed ve-sels of all kinds and tonnage are reported as having passed up toward quarantims. They all showed evidence of having passed through a storm. Some are short of pars, and others have their rigging and gen n a disordered state.

Signal Office Report. WASHINGTON, D. C., September 17 .- The ollowing weather crop bulletin is issued from the signal office: Temperature—During the past week the emperature has been warmer in the cotton regions on the Atlantic coast and in the central valleys, and cooler than usual from Dakota west to the Pacific coast.

Precipitation—Rainfall in the principal agricultural districts, including the corn and cotton regions. Excessive rains occurred over limited areas in Missouri, Kansas and southeastern Ohio. The corn states have seen favored with over 80 per cent. of the normal rainfall.

General remarks—The weather during the seek was especially favorable throughout he corn belt. Cutting of corn has comnenced and a large percentage of the crop a safe from frosts. Recent rains have blaced the ground in a favorable condition for plowing in the Mississippi valley.

THE CRONIN TRIAL

The Almost Hopeless Task of Finding Cnicago, September 11.—The weary work of finding a jury for the Cronin trial was reumed before Judge McConnell, and after erate the work. Judge McConnell said: "I want to say Judge McConnell said: "I want to say a sord to gentlemen on both sides in reference to this line of challenge. As I understand the law-and I think I have taken it from a very high authority, and from rules of practice well approved—in the early empanelling of a lary in a case which has been rery much discussed and very much published in the newspapers as this has, and concerning which the shenff's summoning officers have gone to nearly all parts of the county and summoned all classes and conlitions of society, if it becomes apparent that an ideal or perfect jury can not be somewared, that is, a jury which has not formed my impression upon the matter, then the count must take the next heat jury it can get so long as it is a legal jury. So, while great liberality will be permitted, such as this court has permitted, in this case in the early empaneling of the jury necessarily as the court becomes convinced that it cannot be so liberal, that if it were to continue the course, no jury could be empaneled, that liberality must be limited. So, whatever might be the ordinary rules of law which govern the empaneling of a jury in an ordinary cases they must bend to the exigencies of the case of more public concern, otherwise the result would necessarily follow, that in certain cases no jury could ever be empaneled. Now I mean to say by that, that where I find that it ese opinions are simply found upon newspaper reading, and men come here of whose intelligence an character the court is obliged to come to the conclusion that from what they say they can fairly and impartially try the case on the law and evidence, I shall not be so lib ral as I have been. We have already consumed nine days in endeavoring to empanel a jury."

Politicians Want Riffes, MURIDIAN, MISS., September 16,-The white people of Newton county, especially in the vicinity of Decatur, have been very much disturbed by reports that negro

The whites declare that they want no trouble, but will be prepared for an emergency. The negroes acknowledge that they have been organizing politically, but deny that they intend any disturbance, and conservative citizens generally take this view of the matter. Washington, D. A number of smaller over-payments have also been recently discovered in the accounts of old pension agencies. These errors are said to have resulted from an effort to increase the work of the cierks beyond their capacity. The clerks are now required to maintain an average of 1,000 vouchers a day, and it is contended that the interests of the government would be better protected if this average was reduced to 500 per day.

In conversation with a reporter, Major Warner intimated that he had not yet reached a conclusion in the matter. The impression in Washington is that the matter will be settled by the president during coming week, and that the appointment, when made, will be announced from Deer Pack.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., September 17 .- A cattle disease, said by some to be Texas fever and reached the mid le division about 9 a. m., the eastern division about 2 p. m. and the east line of the state about 6 p. m., giving cooler weather the rest of the week. The sunshine has been about normal.

No damage resulted from the frost, which is the carliest on record in the southern counties. In Rawlins ice formed as thick as window glasa. Major William Warner, of Kansas City, Mo., ex-congressman, and ex-commander of the Grand Army, has been called to Washington by the administration, probably to consult about Commissioner Tanner's successor; possibly to be offered that place for himself.

When Burns and Tallett, the leaders of the London strikes, went to the dock gates to announce the terms of the settlement there were first murmers of complaint, which were quickly followed by hearty cheers for the strike as a victory. The men

The charges made by Colonel Boudinot, Special Agent Gardner and others against ex-Governor Crawford, of Kansas, that the latter had received an illegal fee from the Creek Indians, in connection with the securing of their land payments, have been disposed of by the attorney general as not sustained. The representation heretofore fixed in the deep water convention, to meet at Topska October I. has been extended so as to include the major of every city west of the Mississippi river, each major being also empowered to appoint one delegate for every 10,000 population or fraction thereof, in his city.

Seventy-five colored men and women have, so far, been killed in Mississippi, in two adjoining count es within a few days. The trouble first arose over a command to a negro school teacher to leave the country, which was not promptly obeyed. Other blacks, male and female, have been whipped by the chivalrous regulators. The ceremonies of unveiling the statue of General Grant at Fort Leavenworth were elaborate without estentat ous display. The day was a holiday for the city of Leavenworth. Senator J. J. Ingalls, Hon. George R. Peck and General Charles W. Blair were the speakers; a trio most difficult to equal in oratory in the nation. A conference has been held between Cardinal Manning on behalf of the London striking dock laborers and the directors of the dock company. The cardinal submitted to the directors definite proposals from the strikers for the settlement of the wage question. These proposals, the cardinal believes, will be accepted by the dock companies.

Governor Humphrey, acting upon the advice of the attorney general, refuses to issue proclamation for an election of a delegate in the legislature from Grant county, to fill a vacancy. The basis of his decision is that Grant, being an unorganized county, is not entitled to a representative, and the election of a delegate, if any is made, is the voluntary act of citizens. Five hundred citizens of Dexter, Missouri, have agreed to stand by each other to the utmost, in measures to compel farmer Williams to get rid of the dozen colored laborers on his farm. The people of that section have for years excluded negroes from among them. The demand for rifles is great, as a portion of the community side with Williams, who says they must kill him to effect their object.
